The manuscript "A comparative analysis of per and post-operative complications in patients undergoing early and delayed interval tonsillectomies" published in Pak Postgrad Med J 2020;31(4): 190-194 has been retracted because the manuscript was found to contain plagiarized results from a previously published article "Interval tonsillectomies; comparison of per and post operative complications in patients undergoing early and delayed after peritonsillar abscess." Professional Med J 2014;21(5):1043-1047.

We take plagiarism very seriously, and the authors, unfortunately, did not respond properly to our requests for clarification.
